STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The avenues of higher education & advanced knowledge are limited in the State. Public financial constraints come in the way of investments by the State in creating adequate higher educational infrastructure. The State Policy provides for attracting private investments in setting up institutions of higher education and research. By providing adequate incentives to such private investors, the organizations of national and international repute can be attracted to invest in setting up Universities for which no financial support is required from the State Government.

2. Specific or enabling legislation is required for establishment of such Universities. A common set of guidelines will be require in the establishment of such Universities by ensuring educational standard and by preventing commercialization. It is felt expedient to have an enabling legislation to provide for establishment and functioning of self financed private Universities and for matters regulating them.

3. Hence this Vidheyak.
