Comments
1. Commencement of the Act.—The Rajasthan Urban Improvement Bill, 1957 (Bill No. 26 of 1957) having been passed and received the assent of the President on 24.07.1959. It came on the statute book as THE RAJASTHAN URBAN IMPROVEMENT ACT, 1959 (Rajasthan Act No. 35 of 1959) and published in the Rajasthan Gazette, Part IV-A, Extraordinary dated 03.08.1959.

2. Preamble — Value of.—It is well settled rule that in interpreting the provisions of a statute the Court will presume that the legislation was intended to the intra vires and also reasonable. The rule followed is that the section ought to be interpreted consistent with the presumption which imputes to the legislature an intention of limiting the direct operation of its enactment to the extent that is permissible. Street on Doctrine of Ultra Vires, 1930 Page 302.

3. Statement of objects and reasons.—The facts stated in the preamble and the statement of objects and reasons appended to any legislation are evidence of legislative judgment. They indicate the thought process of the elected representative of the people and their cognizance of the prevalent state of affairs impelling them to enact the law. These, therefore, constitute important factors which amongst others will be taken into consideration by the Courts in judging the reasonableness of any restrictions imposed on the Fundamental Rights of the individuals. The Court would begin with presumption of reasonability of the restrictions, more so when the facts stated in the Statement of Objects and Reasons and the preamble are taken to the correct and they justify the enacement of law for the purpose sought to be achieved.—State of Gujarat vs. Mirzapur Moti Kureshi Kasab Jamat & Ors, AIR 2006 SC 212 at Page 232.

The law is well settled that it is permissible to look into the circumstances which prevailed at the time when the law was passed and which necessitated the passing of that law to determine the purpose or object of the legislation. Ballarpur Industries Ltd. vs. Union of India, AIR 1997 Del. 1 at 9. It was so stated in Shashikant Laxman Kale vs. Union of India, AIR 1990 SC 2114 = 1990 (4) SCC 366, Paragraphs 16 and 17 of this judgment may be reproduced as under:

"16. For determining the purpose or object of the legislation, it is permissible to look into the circumstances which prevailed at the time when the law was passed and which necessitated the passing of that law. For the limited purpose of appreciating the background and the antecedent factual matrix leading to the legislation, it is permissible to look into the Statement of Objects and Reasons of the Bill which actuated the step to provide a remedy for the then existing malady. In A. Thangal Kunju Musaliar vs. M. Venkatachalap Potti, AIR 1956 SC 246 = 1955 (2) SCR 1196, the Statement of Objects and Reasons was used for judging the reasonableness of classification made in an enactment to see if it infringed or was contrary to the Constitution. In that decision for determining the question, even affidavit on behalf of the State of "the circumstances which prevailed at the time when the law there under consideration had been passed and which necessitated the passing of that law" was relied on. It has reiterated in State of West Bengal vs. Union of India, AIR 1963 SC 1241 = 1964 (1) SCR 371, that the statement of objects and reasons accompanying a Bill, when introduced in Parliament, can be used for the limited purpose of understanding the background and the antecedent state of affairs leading up to the legislation'. Similarly, in Pannalal Binjraj vs. Union of India, AIR 1957 SC 397 = 1957 SCR 233, a challenge to the validity of classification was repelled placing reliance on an affidavit filed on behalf of the Central Board of Revenue disclosing the true object of enacting the impugned provision in the Income Tax Act.

"17. Not only this, to sustain the presumption of constitutionality, consideration may be had even to matters of common knowledge; the history of the times; and every conceivable state of facts existing of at the time of legislation which can be assumed. Even though for the purpose of construing the meaning of the enacted provision, it is not permissible to use these aids, yet it is permissible to look into the historical facts and surrounding circumstances for ascertaining the evil sought to be remedied. The distinction between the purpose or object of the legislation and the legislative intention, indicated earlier, is significant in this exercise to emphasise the availability of larger material to the Court for reliance when determining the purpose or object of the legislation as distinguished from the meaning of the enacted provision."

3-A. Statement of objects and reasons—Admissibility in construing a statute.—Be it noted that the Statement of Objects and Reasons is not otherwise admissible as an aid to the construction of a Statute but the same simply assists as to the necessity of introduction of such a law and since the decision of this Court in Aswini Kumar Ghosh & Another vs. Arabinda Bose & Anr., (1953 SCR 1), the law seems to be well settled without a contra note being sounded till now that while construing the clear terms of an Act the Court is not required to ascertain the object of the enactment. Court, however, hasten to add that though, in case of an urgent need of the situation by reason wherefor the intent of the legislature is to be assessed, the Statements and Objects can be looked into for the limited purpose of ascertaining the conditions prevailing at the time which prompted or actuated the proposer of the Bill to introduce the same and the extent of remedying the existing evil of the society.—Subhash Ram Kumar Bind @ Vakil and Anr. vs. State of Maharashtra, 2003 CrLJ 443 at pages 450-451 (DB).

4. Expressions in an Act.—It is not a sound principle of construction to interpret expressions used in one Act with reference to their use in another Act.

The decisions rendered with reference to construction of one Act cannot apply to the provisions of another Act unless the two Acts are pari materia.—Ashok Maniklal Harkut vs. Collector of Amravati, AIR 1988 Bom 207 (FB).

5. General and Special Laws.—When there is a general law and a special law dealing with a particular matter, the special excludes the general.—Kedar Lal Seal vs. Hari Lal Seal, AIR 1952 SC 47 = 1952 SCR 179 = 1952 (1) MLJ 451.

The general rule and the special rule should relate to the same subject.—Bengal Community Co. Ltd. vs. State of Bihar, AIR 1955 SC 661 = 1955 (2) SCR 603 = 1955 SCJ 672.

6. Regulations.—The constitutionality of the impugned regulations has to be adjudged only by a three-fold test, namely—

1. whether the provisions of such regulations fall within the scope and ambit of the power conferred by the statute on the delegate;
2. whether the rules/regulations, framed by the delegate, are to any extent inconsistent with the provisions of the parent enactment; and
3. whether they infringe any of the fundamental rights or other restrictions or limitations imposed by the Constitution.—Maharashtra State Board of Secondary and Higher Secondary Education vs. Paritosh Bhupesh Kumar Shethi, AIR 1984 SC 1543 (2 Judges) = 1984 (4) SCC 27 = 1984 (86) Bom LR 428.

7. Repeal—Meaning and Scope.—It is one of the cardinal principles of interpretation of statutes that a repeal means a complete obliteration of the Act repealed unless it is otherwise expressed.—R.P. Jain & Anr. vs. The State of Bihar, 1977 CrLJ 1758 at p. 1761 (Pat.).

Whenever there is a repeal of an enactment, the consequences laid down in Section 6 of the General Clauses Act though it has been specifically mentioned in the repealing Act or not, will follow, unless, as the section itself says, a different intention appears.—T. Barai vs. Henry, AIR 1983 SC 150 at p. 156 = 1983 UJ 132 (SC) = 1983 (1) SCC 177 = 1983 SCC (Cr) 143.

In State of Punjab vs. Mohar Singh, AIR 1955 SC 84, the Supreme Court has elaborately dealt with the effect of repeal. In the case of a simple repeal, if followed by fresh legislation on the same subject, the Court would undoubtedly have to look to the provisions of the new Act, but only for the purpose of determining whether they indicate a different intention.—T. Barai vs. Henry, AIR 1983 SC 150 at p. 156 = 1983 UJ 132 (SC) = 1983 (1) SCC 177 = 1983 SCC (Cr) 143.

8. Entries in Legislative List.—The Courts must always give the most liberal construction to the words conferring legislative power.
They must give such meaning so that those words may have effect in their widest amplitude.

None of the legislative items in the List should be read in a narrow restricted sense, and each general word should be held to extend to all ancillary and subsidiary matters which can fairly and reasonably be said to be comprehended.—R.S. Joshi vs. Ajit Mills Ltd., AIR 1977 SC 2279 at p. 2295; H. Puttappa vs. State of Karnataka, AIR 1978 Karn. 148 (FB) = ILR 1978 (1) Karn. 605 = 1978 (1) Ker LJ 302.

The Entries in the Lists should be construed broadly and must be given wide possible interpretation, and not in a narrow pedantic sense.—Waverly Jute Mills Co. Ltd. vs. Raymon & Co. (India) Private Ltd, AIR 1963 SC 90 = 1963 (3) SCR 209; Commissioner of Commercial Taxes vs. Ramkishan, AIR 1968 SC 59 = 1968 (1) SCR 142.—The utility of the preamble diminishes on a conclusion as to clarity of enacting provisions. It is therefore, said that the preamble is not to influence the meaning otherwise ascribable to the enacting parts unless there is a compelling reason for it. If in an Act preamble is general or brief statement of the main purpose, it may well be of little value. Mudholkar J. had observed in Burakar Coal Co. Ltd. vs. Union of India, AIR 1961 SC 954, “It is one of the cardinal principles of construction that where the language of an Act is clear, the preamble must be disregarded though, where the object meaning of an enactment is not clear the preamble may be resorted to explain it. Again where very general language is used in an enactment which, it is clear must be intended to have limited application, the preamble may be used to indicate to what particular instances, the enactment is intended to apply. We cannot, therefore, start with the preamble for construing the provisions of an Act, though we could be justified in resorting to it nay we will be required to do so if we find that the language used by Parliament is ambiguous or is too general though in point of fact Parliament intended that it should have a limited application. In Coal Bearing Areas (Acquisition and Development) Act, 1957 the Court was construing a Notification issued under Section 4 (1) of the said Act and as in the represent case the preamble of that Act was to the effect “An Act to establish in the economic interest of India greater public control over the coal mining industry and its development by providing of the acquisition by the State of unworked land containing or likely to contain coal deposits or of right in or over such land, for the extinguishment or modification of such rights accruing by virtue of any agreement, lease license or otherwise, and for matters connected therewith.” Repelling an argument advanced on behalf of the Mine owners that the Act intended to apply only to virgin land and not on the land which are being worked or were worked in the past because of the use of the words ‘unworked land’ in the preamble, this Court held that the language of the enacting provisions was clear and therefore not controller by the preamble. (See : Burakur Coal Co. vs. Union of India, AIR 1961 SC 954 at p. 957).—Union of India vs. Elphinstone Spinning & Weaving Co. Ltd., AIR 2001 SC 724 = 2001 (4) SCC 139 = 2001 (1) JT 536 = 2001 (1) SCC 537.

9. Principles Interpretation.—A rule as it exists must be construed in the light of the Act, the purpose for which the rule is enacted a serious general inconvenience resulting to persons concerned if it is construed in one way or another are relevant considerations. Of course an alteration in the statute have to the notice of but that be a sole basis of construction of a statutory provision.—Martand Balvant Risaldar vs. Chhaganlal Ambalal Gandhi & Ors., 1978 CrLR (Guj.) 204 at p. 208 = 1978 GLR 487 = 1978 Cr LJ 1032.
The cardinal principle of interpretation of statutes is that words should be read in their ordinary, natural and grammatical meaning unless such a reading leads to absurdity. If the words are susceptible of another meaning the Court may adopt the same.—Ajai Singh vs. Nathi Lal & Ors., 1978 CrLJ 629.

10. Rule of Interpretation.—It is well-settled rule of interpretation that a word occurring in the same Act is usually to be given the same meaning unless a different intention is expressed by the provisions of the Act. As such the word “contravention” has be interpreted in Section 6-A and in Section 7 to mean that the provision of any order framed under Section 3 of the Act has been contravened intentionally. On the other hand, if it is found that the contravention was unintentional and the person concerned has taken all reasonable care and was carrying on the business in a bona fide manner, then even for Section-6-A of the Act, it has to be interpreted that in the eye of law there has been no contravention so as to visit the dealer with the consequences of confiscating the articles which has been seized.—Mewalal Kapiladeo Pd. (M/s.) vs. State of Bihar, 1978 CrLJ 873 at p. 876.

Sections of statues calling for construction by Courts are not petrified print but vibrant words with social functions to fulfil. The brooding presence of the constitutional sympathy for the weaker sections like women and children must inform interpretation if it has social relevance. So viewed, it is possible to be selective in picking out that interpretation out of two alternatives which advance the cause of the derelicts.—Ramesh Chander Kaushal [Capt.] vs. Mrs. Veena Kaushal & Ors., 1978 CrLR (SC) 348 at p. 350 = AIR 1978 SC 1807 = 1978 (4) SCC 70 = 1978 Sec (Cr) 508.

The words of the statute, when there is doubt about their meaning, are to be understood in the sense, in which they best harmonise with the aspect of the enactment and the object which the Legislature had in view. The Court has to seek aid from other provisions of the statue in order to arrive at the proper meaning of the words and that interpretation should be accepted, which would result in properly carrying out the intention of the Legislature.—Bhuneshwar Singh & Ors., vs. State of Bihar & Ors., 1978 Bih. LJR 372 at p. 374.

A word occurring in the same Act is usually to be given the same meaning unless a different intention is expressed by the provisions of the Act.—Mewalal Kapiladeo Prasad (M/s) vs. State of Bihar & Ors., 1978 Bih. LJ 206 at p. 212 = 1978 Pat. LJR 315 = 1978 CrLJ 873.

It is a settled rule of interpretation that a statute must be construed as a whole and any interpretation of particular which would render other material provisions nugatory, is to be avoided, if possible.—Gurbaksh Singh Sibia vs. State of Punjab, 1977 CrLJ 322 = 1977 CrLJ 240.

The normal rule of interpretation, of course is that the words of statute should be given their literal and grammatical meaning. But if such a literal interpretation leads to an anomalous and absurd situation and if this literal interpretation leads to a conflict between two provisions of law on the subject the Court has to find out the real intention of the Legislature. If two views are possible, one which results in any anomaly and the other not, the duty of the Court is to adopt the latter and the former.—Ram Adhin vs. Shyama Devi, 1977 All CrC 10 at p. 12 = 1977 All LJ 382 = 1977 CrLJ 453.

11. Intention of Statutory Provision.—In order to arrive at true intendment of a statute, the Court should pose to itself the following questions:

(1) What was the situation prior to the provisions under consideration;
12. Interpretation of Constitutional provision—Object oriented approach must be adopted.—The framers of the Constitution did not visualise that a non-legislator can be repeatedly appointed as Minister for a turn of six months each time, without getting elected because such a course strikes at the very root of parliamentary democracy. According to learned Counsel for the respondent, there is no bar to this course being adopted on the plain language of the Article, which does not 'expressly' prohibit re-appointment of the Minister, without being elected, even repeatedly, during the term of the same Legislative Assembly. We cannot persuade ourselves to agree.

Constitutional provisions are required to be understood and interpreted with an object oriented approach. A Constitution must not be construed in a narrow and pedantic sense. The words used may be general in terms but, their full import and true meaning, has to be appreciated considering the true context in which the same are used and the purpose which they seek to achieve. Debates in the Constituent Assembly referred to in an earlier part of this judgment clearly indicates that non-member's inclusion in the cabinet was considered to be a 'privilege' that extends only for six months, during which period the member must get elected otherwise he would cease to be a Minister. It is a settled position that debates in the Constituent Assembly may be relied upon as an aid to interpret a constitutional provision because it is the function of the Court to find out the intention of the framers of the Constitution. We must remember that a Constitution is not just a document in solemn form, but a living framework for the Government of the people exhibiting a sufficient degree of cohesion and its successful working depends upon the democratic spirit underlying it being respected in letter and in spirit. The debates clearly indicate the 'privilege' to extend "only" for six months.—S.R. Chaudhuri vs. State of Punjab, AIR 2001 SC 2707 = 2001 (7) SCC 126 (SC) = 2001 (6) JT 446.

13. Interpretation of Flexibility.—The law, howsoever rigid it may be, has to be interpreted in a flexible manner so as to see that the rule of law is not abrogated and merely on technical grounds a party is not deprived of being heard as regards the merits of the case.—Balu Ram vs. Arjun Lal, AIR 1978 All 243 (SJ).

14. Interpretation of Judgments.—Judgments of Courts are not to be construed as statutes. To interpret words, phrases and provisions of a statute, it may become necessary for Judges to embark into lengthy discussions but the discussion is meant to explain and not to define. Judges interpret statutes they do not interpret judgment. They interpret words of statutes; their words are not to be interpreted as statutes.—Amar Nath vs. State of Punjab, AIR 1985 SC 218 at p. 227 = 1985 (1) SCC 345.

15. Value of History in interpretation—The interpreter of the statute must take note of the well known historical facts. In conventional language the interpreter must put himself in the arm chair of those who were passing the Act i.e. the Member of the Parliament. It is the collective will of the Parliament with which the Supreme Court is concerned.—Doypack System Pvt. Ltd. (M/s.) vs. Union of India, AIR 1988 SC 782 at p. 797 = 1988 (2) UJ 54 (SC) = 1988 (2) SCC 299 = 1988 (1) JT (SC) 304.
16. Central and State Acts.—Article 14 of the Constitution does not authorise the striking down of a law of one State on the ground that, in contrast with a law of another State on the same subject, its provisions are discriminatory. Nor does it contemplate a law of the Central or of the State dealing with similar subjects being held to be unconstitutional by a process of comparative study of the provisions of the two enactments. The sources of authority for the two statues being different, Article 14 has no application.—Parbha Karan Nair vs. State of Tamil Nadu, AIR 1987 SC 2117; Chapadgaon Vividh Karyakari Seva Sahakari Society vs. Collector of Ahmednagar, 1989 (3) Bom. CR 641.

17. Courts cannot Legisl ate.—The function of the Courts is to apply the law as it stands. May be the Courts notices the anomalies. But it is not for the Court to re-write the law even though the Court considers the provisions as they stand to be unreasonable. Of course Courts do resort to the device of reading words into the provisions of the statute purporting to bring it in accord with what is evidently the intention of the legislature. But where it is evident that there is an omission on the part of the legislature to make an amendment which it ought to have made, even if such omission appears to be inadvertent, the Courts cannot supply the omission, for then it would be arrogating to itself legislative functions which it does not possess.—Dakshayini vs. Madhavan, AIR 1982 Kant 126.

18. Inaccurate regulation—Inaccuracies therein—Strict construction not proper.—By a second Resolution dated 24.04.1995 the State Government sanctioned a list of buildings and precincts of historical, aesthetical, architectural or cultural value as per the scheduled annexed to that resolution. The schedule contains in all 633 items as Heritage buildings or precincts with their “location” described in the next column. Many of the items are overlapping. For example item 633 pertains to Fort Precinct which includes 14 sub-precincts. Within those precincts there are several buildings which have been separately listed including the Bombay High Court at item 77. Again item 107 mentions “all buildings at Dadabhai Naroji Road with a special focus on Fort House” This is followed by items 108 to 127 each of which relate to building/structure on the Dada Bhai Naoroji Road. There is apparently no consistency in the way that the list has been prepared. Not only is there overlapping but there are, at times, inaccuracies. For example against item 442 under the heading ‘location’ in respect of several buildings within the Mahalaxmi Precinct, the word-appearing is “deleted”. If one were to read the list as it is, one would have to come to the absurd conclusion that the location of the several buildings mentioned in 442 was “deleted”. Therefore a strict or literal construction of the list would be misplaced.

It is true as far as Mahalaxmi Precinct is concerned, although there is a separate map indicating the precinct along with all other precincts. It does not appear under the column “Nature of Monuments Building, Precincts etc.” but in the column headed “location”. Against serial Nos. 441 and 442. But locations have generally been indicated in the list with reference to roads. A precinct cannot be a “location” since it is really an area. In such circumstances it is reasonable to ascertain the intention of the State Government from the map annexed to the list. The fact that no map of any other location has been given coupled with fact that only maps of heritage precincts have been given in our opinion would certainly indicate that Mahalaxmi precinct is indeed a listed heritage precinct against Serial No. 442 as mentioned in the map.

The list also refers to five precincts, namely Banganga Precincts mentioned against Serial No. 384, Opera House Precincts, Serial No. 401, Gamdevi Precinct, Serial No. 432, Mahalaxmi Precinct, Serial No. 442, Khotachiwadi precinct, Serial
No. 508, Matharpakhadi Precinct, Serial No. 522 and Bandra Precinct Serial No. 612. There is no other precinct which is mentioned as a location.

The MHCC has taken into consideration the nature of the list, particularly the maps annexed thereto, to come to the conclusion that the mentioning the Mahalaxmi Precinct under the heading of “location” was clearly not the intention of the State Government, but the intention was to treat the precinct along with all other precincts of which maps are given as heritage precincts.—Mass Holdings Private Ltd. vs. Municipal Corporation of Greater Mumbai & Anr., AIR 2006 SC 749 at Pages 751-752 (DB).

19. Interpretation of Statutes—Procedural provision should not be allowed to defeat substantive right to cause injustice.—Non-compliance with any procedural requirement relating to a pleading, memorandum of appeal or petition for relief should not entail automatic dismissal or rejection, unless the relevant statute or rule so mandates. Procedural defects and irregularities which are curable should not be allowed to defeat substantive rights or to cause injustice. Procedure, a handmaiden to justice, should never be made a tool to deny justice or perpetuate injustice, by any oppressive or punitive use. The well recognized exceptions to this principle are:—

(i) Where the Statute prescribing the procedure, also prescribes specifically the consequence of non-compliance;
(ii) where the procedural defect is not rectified, even after it is pointed out and due opportunity is given for rectifying it;
(iii) where the non-compliance or violation is proved to be deliberate or mischievous;
(iv) where the rectification of defect would affect the case on merits or will affect the jurisdiction of the Court;
(v) in case of Memorandum of Appeal, there is complete absence of authority and the appeal is presented without the knowledge, consent and authority of the appellant.—Uday Shankar Triyar vs. Ram Kalewar Prasad Singh & Anr., AIR 2006 SC 269 at Page 274 (FB)

20. Precedent—Stare decisis—Not a dogmatic rule allergic to logic and reasons.—The trend of judicial opinion is that stare decisis is not a dogmatic rule allergic to logic and reason, it is a flexible principle of law operating in the province of precedents providing room to collaborate with the demands of changing times dictated by social needs, State policy and judicial conscience.

The doctrine of stare decisis is generally to be adhered to, because well settled principles of law founded on a series of authoritative pronouncements ought to be followed yet, the demands of the changed facts and circumstances dictated by forceful factors supported by logic, amply justify the need for a fresh look.—State of Gujarat vs. Mirzapur Moti Kureshi Kassab Jamat & Ors., AIR 2006 SC 212 at Pages 243-245 (F.B.)

21. Precedents having binding force.—When the allegation is of cheating or deceiving, whether the alleged act is wilful or not depends upon the circumstances of the concerned case and there cannot be any strait jacket formula. The High Court unfortunately did not discuss the factual aspects and by merely placing reliance on earlier decision of the Court held that pre-requisite conditions were absent. Reliance on the decision without looking in to the factual background of the case before it is clearly impermissible. A decision is a precedent on its own facts. Each case presents its own features. It is not everything said by a Judge while giving judgment that constitutes a precedent. The only thing in a Judge’s decision binding a party is the principle upon which the case is decided and for this reason it is important to analyse a decision and isolate from it the ratio decided. According to the well-settled theory of precedents, every decision contains three basic postulates—(i) findings of material facts, direct and inferential. An inferential finding of facts is the inference which the Judge draws from the direct, or perceptible facts;(ii) statements of the principles of law applicable to the legal problems disclosed by the facts; and (iii) judgment based on the combined effect of the above. A decision is an authority for what it actually decides. What is of the essence in a decision is its ratio and not every observation found therein nor what logically flows from the various observations made in the judgment. The enunciation of the reason or principle on which a question before a Court has been decided is alone binding as a precedent. State of Orissa vs. Sudhansu Sekhar Misra & Ors., AIR 1968 SC 647, and Union of India & Ors. vs. Dhanwanti Devi & Ors., 1996 (6) SCC 44.

A case is a precedent and binding for what it explicitly decides and no more. The words used by Judges in their judgments are not to be read as if they are words ill Act of Parliament. In Quinen vs. Leathem, 1901 AC 495 (HL), Earl of Halsbury LC observed that every judgment must be read as applicable to the particular facts proved or assumed to be proved, since the generality of the expressions which are found there are not intended to be exposition of the whole law but governed and qualified by the particular facts of the case in which such expressions are found and a case is only an authority for what it actually decides.—State of Orissa & Ors., vs. Mohammad Illiyas, AIR 2006 SC 258 at Pages 261-262 (DB)

22. Requirement of procedure in Foreign Act be fair, reasonable, just does not apply—Procedure in Foreigners Act does not violate Article 21.— It is submitted that in view of the clear mandate of Article 21 that no person shall be deprived of his life or personal liberty except according to procedure established by law, there has to be a fair procedure for expulsion of foreigners. According to the learned Counsel, the IMDT Act lays down a fair procedure, namely determination by a judicial Tribunal of the question of citizenship of a person and his deportation. It has thus been submitted that the IMDT Act which seeks to achieve this object meets the requirements of Article 21 of the Constitution and thus its validity cannot be impugned. The learned Additional Solicitor General and Shri K.K. Venugopal, during the course of their arguments, have also laid great stress on the fact that the IMDT Act has been enacted to give protection to genuine Indian citizens and to save their harassment.

It is not possible to accept the submission made. The view taken by this Court is that in a criminal trial where a person is prosecuted and punished for commission of a crime and may thus be deprived of his life or liberty. It is not enough that he is prosecuted in accordance with the procedure prescribed by law but the procedure should be such which is just, fair and reasonable. This principle can have no application here for the obvious reason that in the matter of identification of a foreigner and his deportation, he is not being deprived of his life or personal liberty. The deportation proceedings are not proceedings for prosecution where a man may be convicted or sentenced. The Foreigners Act and the Foreigners (Tribunals) Order, 1964 are applicable to whole of India and even to the State of Assam for identification of foreigners who have entered Assam between 01.01.1966 and 24.03.1971 in view of the language used in Section 6-A of Citizenship Act. It is, therefore, not open to Union of India or State of Assam or for the matter anyone to contend that the procedure prescribed in the aforesaid enactment is not just, fair and reasonable and thus violative of Article 21 of the Constitution. The procedure under the Foreigners Act and the Foreigners (Tribunals) Order, 1964 is just, fair and reasonable and does not offend any
23. Construction of statutes—Two interpretation possible which interpretation be adopted.—B. Banerjee vs. Smt. Anita Pan, AIR 1975 SC 1146, the Supreme Court in the said decision has held, in the facts and circumstances therein, that where two interpretations are possible which validates the statute and shortens litigation should be preferred to the one which, invalidates or proliferates. Their Lordships therein were satisfied that, as far as possible, Courts must avoid multiplicity of litigation. Any interpretation of a statute which will obviate purposeless proliferation of litigation, without whittling down the effectiveness of the protection for the parties sought to be helped by the Legislation, should be preferred to any literal, pedantic, legalistic or technically correct alternative. Their Lordships were conscious that in shortening litigation, in the manner directed therein they were straining language to the extent of interpreting the expression "institution of the suit" as amounting to filing fresh pleadings. By that construction no violence to the language was done, but, on the other hand, public justice and social gain was promoted. It has further been observed as follows in the said decision:

"Ruinous protraction of litigation, who-ever may temporarily seem to benefit by delay, bankrupts both in the end and inflicts wounds on society by sterile misuse of money. Tenant passengers who prolong their expensive flight on the litigation rocket, are buying tickets for financial crash, dugged though they be by the seeming blessings of law's delays. Courts, by interpreting the expression 'institution of suits' cannot authorize reincarnation, all over again, of litigation for eviction. We save the tenant by applying it to pending cases and save him also from litigative waste".—Shanti Swarup Sarkar vs. Pradip Kumar Sarkar & Ors., AIR 1997 Cal. 197 at Page 201.

24. Court can neither assume role of legislature nor can prescribe procedure different from one prescribed in statute.—It is well settled law that in the course of interpretation of a statutory provision the Courts cannot assume the role of Legislature, nor can it appropriate to itself the legislative powers, nor can, under the guise of interpretation, prescribe a procedure different from the one prescribed under the statute for the conduct of trial in civil proceedings.—Bar Council of Maharashtra and Goa and Ors., vs. Shamrao Vishnu Kmjir arid Ors., AIR 2006 Bom. 167 at Page 169 (DB).

25. Duty of Court—Merely because law causes hardship it cannot be interpreted in a manner so as to defeat the object.—It is well settled law that merely because a law causes hardship, it cannot be interpreted in a manner so as to defeat its object. It is also to be remembered that the Courts are not concerned with the legislative policy or with the result, whether injurious or otherwise, by giving effect to the language used nor it is the function of the Court where the meaning is clear not to give effect to it merely because it would lead to some hardship. It is the duty imposed on the Courts in interpreting a particular provision of law to ascertain the meaning and intendment of the Legislature and in doing so, it should presume that the provision was designed to effectuate a particular object or to meet a particular requirement. (Re : Firms Nar Nath Basheshar Dass vs. Tek Chand [1972 (1) SCC 893].—M/s Easland Combines, Coimbatore vs. Collector of Central Excise Coimbatore, AIR 2003 SC 843 at Page 850 = 2003 AIR SCW 294 = 2003 (1) ACE 148 = 2003 (1) Supreme 374 = 2003 (1) Scale 123 = 2003 (1) SLT 361 = 2003 (1) SCR 98 = 2003 (3) SCC 410 = 2003 (1) LRI 163 = 2003 (1) JT 106 = 2003 (2) Ind. LD 876 = 2003 (152) ELT 39 (DB).
26. Interpretation of Statutes Deprivation of Legal right.—Such a valuable right, having regard to the legal position as obtaining in common law as also under the provisions of the Transfer of Property Act, must be deemed to have been known to the Parliament. Thus, while enacting the Companies Act, the Parliament cannot be held to have intended to deprive the first charge holder of the said right. Such a valuable right, therefore, must be held to have been kept preserved. [See: Workmen of M/s. Firestone Tyre and Rubber Co. of India (P.) Ltd. vs. Management & Ors. (1973) 1 SCC 813].

If the Parliament while amending the provisions of the Companies Act intended to take away such a valuable right of the first charge holder, we see no reason why it could not have stated so explicitly. Deprivation of legal right existing in favour of a person cannot be presumed in construing the statute. It is in fact the other way round and thus, a contrary presumption shall have to be raised.—ICICI Bank Ltd. vs. SIDCO Leathers Ltd., AIR 2006 SC 2088 at Page 2099.

27. Equality—Theory of guided power explained.—The gravemen of Article 14 is equality of treatment. Article 14 confers a personal right by enacting a prohibition which absolute. By judicial decisions, the doctrine of classification is read into Article 14. Equality of treatment under Article 14 is an objective test. It is not the test of intention. Therefore, the basic principle underlying Article 14 is that the law must operate equally on all persons under like circumstances.

Every discretionary power is not necessarily discriminatory. According to the Constitutional Law of India, by H. M. Seervai, 4th Edn. 546, equality is not violated by mere conferment of discretionary power. It is violated by arbitrary exercise by those on whom it is conferred. This is the theory of 'guided power'. This theory is based on the assumption that in the event of arbitrary exercise by those on whom the power is conferred would be corrected by the Courts. This is the basic principle behind the enabling provisions which are incorporated in Articles 16 (4A) and 16 (4B). Enabling provisions are permissive in nature. They are enacted to balance equality with positive discrimination. The constitutional law is the law of evolving concepts. Some of them are generic others have to be identified and valued. The enabling provisions deal with the concept, which has to be identified and valued as in the case of access vis-a-vis efficiency which depends on the fact-situation only and not abstract principle of equality in Article 14 as spelt out in detail in Articles 15 and 16. Equality before the law, guaranteed by the first part of Article 14, is negative concept while the second part is a positive concept which is enough to validate equalizing measures depending upon the fact-situation.—M. Nagaraj and Ors. vs. Union of India and Ors., AIR 2007 SC 71 at Page 101 (SC) (FB).

28. Internal aid—use of Article "and" "the" and "a"—Effect.—Section 138 provides that where any cheque drawn by a person on an account by him with a 'banker' for payment of any amount of money to another person from out of that account for the discharge, in whole or in part, of any debt or other liability, is returned by "the bank" unpaid, either because of the amount of money standing to the credit of that account is insufficient to honour the cheque or that it exceeds the amount arranged to be paid from that account by an agreement made with that bank, such person shall be deemed to have committed an offence punishable with imprisonment as prescribed therein subject to the conditions mentioned in Clauses (a), (b) and (c) of the proviso. Section 3 of the Act defines the "banker" to include any person acting as a banker and any post office saving bank. Section 72 of the Act provides that a cheque must, in order to charge the drawer, be presented at the bank upon which it is drawn before the relations between the drawer and his banker has been altered to the prejudice of the drawer.
The use of the words "a bank" and "the bank" in the section is indicator of the intention of the Legislature. The former is indirect Article and the latter is prefixed by direct article. If the Legislature intended to have the same meanings for "a bank" and "the bank", there was no cause or occasion for mentioning it distinctly and differently by using two different articles. It is worth noticing that the word "banker" in Section 3 of the Act is prefixed by the indefinite article "a" and the word "bank" where the cheque is intended to be presented under Section 138 is prefixed by the definite article "the". The same section permits a person to issue a cheque on an account maintained by him with "a bank" and makes him liable for criminal prosecution if it is returned by "the bank" unpaid. The payment of the cheque is contemplated by "the bank" meaning thereby where the person issuing the cheque has an account. "The" is the word used before nouns, with a specifying of particularising effect opposed to the indefinite or generalising force of "a" or "an". It determines what particular thing is meant; that is, what particular thing we are to assume to be meant. "The" is always mentioned to denote particular thing or a person. "The" would, therefore, refer implicitly to a specified bank and not any bank. "The bank" referred to in Clause (a) to the proviso to Section 138 of the Act would mean the drawee-bank on which the cheque is drawn and not all banks where the cheque is presented for collection including the bank of the payee, in whose favour the cheque is issued.

It, however, does not mean that the cheque is always to be presented to the drawer's bank on which the cheque is issued. The payee of the cheque in any bank including the collecting bank where he has his account but to attract the criminal liability of the drawer of the cheque such collecting bank is obliged to present the cheque in the drawee or payee bank on which the cheque is drawn within the period of six months from the date on which it is shown to have been issued. In other words a cheque issued by (A) in favour of (B) drawn in a bank named (C) where the drawer has an account can be presented by the payee to the bank upon which it is drawn i.e. (C) bank within a period of six months or present it to any other bank for collection of the cheque amount provided such other bank including the collecting bank presents the cheque for collection to the (C) bank. The non-presentation of the cheque to the drawee-bank within the period specified in the section would absolve the person issuing the cheque of his criminal liability under Section 138 of the Act, who shall otherwise may be liable to pay the cheque amount to the payee in a civil action initiated under the law. A combined reading of Sections 2, 72 and 138 of the Act would leave no doubt in our mind that the law mandates the cheque to be presented at the bank on which it is drawn if the drawer is to be held criminally liable. Such presentation is necessarily to be made within six months at the bank on which the cheque is drawn, whether presented personally or through another bank, namely, the collecting bank of the payee.—Shri Ishar Alloys Steels Ltd. vs. Jayaswals NECO Ltd., AIR 2001 SC 1161 at Pages 1164-1165 = 2001 (2) UJ (SC) 1093 = 2001 (2) Supreme 61 = 2001 (2) Scale 173 = 2001 (3) SRJ 441 = 2001 (1) SCJ 487 = 2001 (3) SCC 609 = 2001 (1) RLW 161 = 2001 (2) Mah LR 439 = 2001 (2) MPLJ 272 = 2001 (1) LRI 760 = 2001 (2) Kent LT 148 = 2001 (2) JT 114 = 2001 (1) Crimes 284 = 2001 CrLJ 1250.

29. Interpretation of Statute—Inaccuracies in Government regulation strict construction not proper.—Location has been generally indicated in the list with reference to roads. A precinct cannot be a "location" since it is really an area. In such circumstances it is reasonable to ascertain the intention of the State Government from the map annexed to the list. The fact that no map of any other location has been given coupled with the fact that only maps of heritage precincts have been given would certainly indicate that Mahalaxmi precinct is indeed a listed heritage precinct against serial No. 442 as mentioned in the map.

The list also refers to five precincts, namely Banganga Precincts mentioned against Sl. No. 384, Opera House Precincts, Sl. No. 401, Gamdevi Precinct, Sl. No. 432, Mahalaxmi Precinct, Sl. No. 442, Khotachiwadi Precinct, Sl. No. 508, Matharpakhadi Precinct, Sl. No. 522 and Bandra precinct Sl. No. 612. There is no other precinct which is mentioned as a location.

The MHCC has taken into consideration the nature of the list, particularly the maps annexed thereto, to the conclusion that the mentioning the Mahalaxmi Precinct under the heading of "location" was clearly not the intention of the State Government, but the intention was to treat the precinct along with all other precincts of which maps are given as heritage precinct.

There is also no question of amendment of the list appended to the Resolution dated 24.04.1995. The intention of the State Government as has been culled out by the MHCC and affirmed by the Bombay High Court and as found by us is that the list as it exists includes Mahalaxmi Precinct as a heritage precinct.—Mass Holdings Pvt. Ltd. vs. Municipal Corporation of Greater Mumbai and Anr., AIR 2006 SC 749 at Page 752.

30. Harmonious construction—Effort be made that each provision in statute will have its play.—While interpreting a statute the Court should try to sustain its validity and give such meaning to the provisions which advance the object sought to be achieved by the enactment. The Court cannot approach the enactment with a view to pick holes or to search for defects of drafting which make its working impossible. It is a cardinal principle of construction of a statute that effort should be made in construing the different provisions so that each provision will have its play and in the event of any conflict a harmonious construction should be given. The well-known principle of harmonious construction is that effect shall be given to all the provisions and for that any provision of the statute should be construed with reference to the other provisions so as to make it workable. A particular provision cannot be picked up and interpreted to defeat another provision made in that behalf under the statute. It is the duty of the Court to make such construction of a statute which shall suppress the mischief and advance the remedy. While interpreting a statute the Courts are required to keep in mind the consequences which are likely to flow upon the intended interpretation.—M/s. British Airways Plc. vs. Union of India and Ors., AIR 2002 SC 391 at Pages 393-394 = 2001 AIR SCW 5197 = 2001 (94) DLT 662 = 2002 (139) ELT 6 = 2001 (9) JT 544 = 2002 (2) SCC 95 = 2001 (8) Scale 73 = 2001 (8) Supreme 138.

31. Intention behind provision cannot be used to defect express words of provision.—The alleged intention behind a provision, cannot be used to defeat the express words of the provision. Once a statutory rule is made, without providing any exceptions, it is not possible to carve out exceptions to such rule, by judicial interpretation. Nor can an exemption from application of a clear and specific rule be claimed on the ground of hardship or similar reasons. The proviso to Rule 27 (a) of the Rules is categorical and applies to all employees transferred on own request. It does not make distinction between employees whose promotion post is State-wise post and those where the promotion posts are District-wise posts.—K.P. Sudhakaran and Anr. vs. State of Kerala and Ors., AIR 2006 SC 2138 at Page 2144.

32. Narrow and pedantic construction may not always be given effect to.—It is now well settled principle of law that the Court cannot enlarge the scope of legislation or intention when the language of the statute is plain and unambiguous. Narrow and pedantic construction may not always be given effect to. Courts should avoid a construction, which would reduce the legislation to futility. It is also well settled that every statute is to be interpreted without any violence to its language. It is also trite that when an expression is capable of more than one meaning, the Court would attempt to resolve the ambiguity in a manner consistent with the purpose of the provision, having regard to the great consequences of the alternative constructions.—A.N. Roy, Commissioner of Police and Anr. vs. Suresh Sham Singh, AIR 2006 SC 2677 at page 2681.

33. Applicability of non-obstante clause be considered in consideration of Act and Object and Reasons for which Act is made.—There is no doubt that by non-obstante clause the Legislature devices means which are usually applied to give overriding effect to certain provisions over some contrary provisions that may be found either in the same enactment or some other statute. In other words such a clause is used to avoid the operation and effect of all contrary provisions. The phrase is equivalent to showing that the Act shall be no impediment to measure intended. To attract the applicability of the phrase, the whole of the section, the scheme of the Act and the Objects and Reasons for which such an enactment is made has to be kept in mind.—Vishin N. Khan Chandani and Anr. vs. Vidya Lachman Das Khan Chandani and Anr., AIR 2000 SC 2747 at page 2752 = 2000 AIR SCW 2932 = 2000 (4) Bom. CR 626 = 2000 (3) SCJ 120 = 2000 (2) UJ (SC) 1300 = 2000 (9) JT 321 = 2000 (3) LRI 612 = 2000 (8) SRJ 182 = 2000 (5) Scale 592 = 2000 (5) Supreme 574 = 2000 (6) SCC 724 = 2000 (Ke LJ (Tax.) 507.

34. Non-obstante clause must be given effect to extent Parliament intended and not beyond.—The non-obstante nature of a provision although may be of wide amplitude, the interpretative process thereof must be kept confined to the legislative policy. Only because the dues of the workmen and the debt due to the secured creditors are treated pari passu with each other, the same by itself, in our considered view, would not lead to the conclusion that the concept of inter se priorities amongst the secured creditors had thereby been intended to be given a total go-by.

A non-obstante clause must be given effect to, to the extent the Parliament intended and not beyond the same.—ICICI Bank Ltd. vs. SIDCO Leather Ltd. and Ors., AIR 2006 SC 2088 at Page 2098.

35. Term "Police Station".—Finally, Court, in the case of Gangadharachari, (1975 (2) Kant LJ SN No. 91 P. 47), held :

"According to Notification HD 83 PEG. 69, dt 13.02.70, Sub-Inspector of Police, CID; is deemed to be an officer in charge of the police station whenever he investigates at any place in the State an offence within the limits of which such place is situated, ..............."

Therefore, for the purpose of investigation of particular crimes on the direction of the State Government or the Superior Competent Police Officer, the aforesaid unquestionable material placed on record makes the position of C.I.D./C.O.D. to be a "Police Station" within the meaning of Section 2 (s) and that every Police Officer attached to this organisation of the rank of Sub-Inspector and above is a 'Police Officer in charge of a Police Station' within the meaning of Section 156 (1), CrPC. Therefore, there is no flaw in the competence of the I.O. (C.W. 75) to act as a Police Officer in charge of a police station within the meaning of Section 2 (s) and 156, and in the investigation carried out by him resulting in submission of the charge-sheet under Section 173, CrPC (See: also State of Bihar vs. J.A.C. Saldanna (1980 CrLJ 98 = (AIR 1980 SC 326) (SC)) and R. P. Kapur vs. Sardar Pratap Singh Kairon, AIR 1961 SC 1117 = 1961 (2) CrLJ 167). Hence, I find no legal force, whatever, in the objection of Mr. C. V. Nagesh raised in this behalf.—Narsimhaiah vs. State of Karnataka and Anr., 2002 CrLJ 4795 at Page 4801 (Kar).

Definition clause.—A definition clause in a statute is a legislative device with a view to avoid making different provisions of the statute to be cumbersome. Where a word is defined in the statute and that word is used in a provision to which that definition is applicable, the effect is that wherever the word defined as used in that provision, the definition of the word gets substituted. Per H.R. Khanna, J., in the case of Indira Nehru Gandhi (Smt.) vs. Raj Narain, AIR 1975 SC 2299 (5 Judges) = 1975 Supp SCC 1 = 1976 (2) SCR 347.

1 [(xiii) "former trust" means anybody, by whatsoever name designated, whether statutory or non-statutory and whether corporate or otherwise, functioning in any area within the State immediately before the establishment of an Improvement Trust under this Act for such area for the improvement or development thereof.]
When the Act defines a particular term, it is that definition which has to be taken for that term wherever it occurs in the Act, and it would not be permissible to construe the said term in any other manner. Vide Maxwell on Interpretation of Statutes, 11th Edition page 290.—Sadashiv Vishnu Nagarkar vs. Maruti Baloba Vyevahare, AIR 1970 Bom 93 (DB) = 1969 Mah LJ 740 = 71 Bom LR 519; Bhaskar Narayan Herdikar vs. S.G. Daithankar, AIR 1971 Bom 188 (DB) = 1970 Mah LJ 953 = 73 Bom LR 851.

A definition which first tells us what a thing meant and then goes on to say what it includes, can use the inclusive device for three entirely different purposes viz.,—

(i) by way of illustration, or of enumeration of the forms the thing defined commonly assumes, by naming things that clearly come within the meaning; given;

(ii) for roping in things that, either partly or in whole, would not come within the meaning;

(iii) by way of abundant caution, so as to put it beyond doubt that certain things do come within the meaning.—Krishnan Nair vs. Perumbalath Kizhakkinivakath Manakkal, AIR 1967 Ker 270 (FB) = 1967 Ker LJ 84 = ILR 1967 (1) Ker 262.

It was held in case of Bala Krishna Rao (K) vs. Haji Abdulla Sait, AIR 1980 SC 214 (2 Judges) at P. 224 = 1980 (1) RCJ (SC) 179 at p. 195 = 1980 (1) SCC 321 = 1980 (1) SCJ 104 = 1980 (1) SCR 875 = 1979 Rent LR 412 = 1980 (1) RCR 374, that:—

(a) a definition clause does not necessarily in any statute apply in all possible contexts in which the word which is defined, may be found therein;

(b) the opening clause of the definition section itself suggests that any expression defined in that section should be given the meaning assigned to it therein unless the context otherwise requires.

It was laid down in the Andhra Pradesh case of Commissioner of Income-tax vs. Dredging Corporation of India, 1988 (714) ITR 682 (DB) that—

1. It is a cardinal principle in construction of enactments that, unless the context otherwise requires the definition of an expression contained in the Act should prevail throughout the Act.

2. Therefore, whenever a different meaning is sought to be given to that expression occurring at different places in the Act, it is necessary to point out why the context requires different meanings to be given to the same expression occurring at different places in the Act.

Comments

Transfer of employees from UIT to Municipal Corporation—Power of Transfer.—As per Section 24A of the Act of 1959, the employees of a Trust can be transferred by the State Government form one Trust to another or to the JDA, but it does not empower the State Government to transfer employees of the Trust to the Municipal Corporation and therefore, in view of thus, the impugned transfer order dated 03.07.2003 issued by the Dy. Secretary, Local Self Government Department, Jaipur transferring the petitioners from Trust to Municipal Corporation, which is not permissible under the provisions of Section 24A of the Act of 1959 is wholly illegal and in violation of the provisions of Section 24A of the Act of 1959 and thus, it cannot be sustained.—Amardeep Dube & Anr. vs. State of Rajasthan & Am., 2003 (3) DNJ 1104 (Raj) = 2004 (1) RLW (Raj) 303 = 2003 (3) CDR 1801 (Raj).

—A look at the award will show that it has not been stated that the buildings structures or houses are existing and all that has been stated is that in case any buildings are existing on the land of amount of compensation will be determined separately. There being no material that any such claim was filed under Section 9 of the U.I.T. (a) refer to a committee appointed under Section 20, for inquiry and report, any matter relating to any of the purposes of this Act, and

Order of removal — Trust cannot delegat its power.—From the reading of Section 91-A it will be evident that the power to order removal vests in the Trust. The Trust may delegate any of its functions or the duties to any of the committees constituted under Section 21 of the Act. It may further delegate such of the functions as may be permissible under the regulation framed under Section 75 of the Act to the Chairman of the Trust and there is no provision in the Act empowering the Trust to delegate its power in regard to the order of removal of construction in favour of an officer of the Trust. It is true that under Section 27 of the Act the Chairman may be general or special order in writing delegate to any officer of the Trust any of his power, duties or functions under this Act or under the Rules made thereunder except the power to preside over the resting of the trust. Such delegation by the Chairman is in regard to his own functions only. There is, however, no provision of such delegation in favour of officer so far as the trust is concerned. It, therefore, follows that the functions of the Trust can be delegated either in favour of the committee or in favour of the Chairman. In the case of Chairman delegation will be to the extent the regulation framed under Section 75 of the Act permits. It may be observed here that the delegation of power is permissible with the legislative permission and in absence of such legislative permission there can be no delegation of the functions of the trust in favour of the officer to the Trust or its Secretary. Any delegation may by the Trust under its resolution in regard to the removal of unauthorised construction cannot be said to be in consonance of the provision of the Act. Court is, therefore, firmly of the opinion that the resolution of the UIT as far it delegates power of removal under Section 91 in favour of its Secy. is beyond the competence of the U.I.T. As a naturally corollary thereof the Secretary of the Trust derives no power of ordering removal of unauthorised construction and is therefore wholly incompetent to pass the impugned order under Section 91 of the Act. It may be that the Trust may empower any office-officer for the purpose of Section 91(C) and authorise any officer to stop the unauthorised building operations but from that it cannot be inferred that the Trust can by its resolution authorise its officer under Section 91(C) of the Act to order removal of unauthorised construction—Mohan Lal vs. Urban Improvement Trust, Jodhpur, 1978 RLW 72 (Raj) = AIR 1978 (Raj) 201 = 1978 WLN 38 (Raj).

1. Applicability of Section 29.—Construction for purpose other than covered by Section 29. No scheme framed under Section 29, nor any pre-existing scheme in operation—Sections have no application since distinguishing features contemplated in Section 73-B not attracted.

In respect of authority to levy conversion charges in the cases of free old lands, use of which is not restricted by the title, under which such land is held, no conversion charges are leviable and in view of the fact that though under non-obstante provision of Section 73B the State Government has necessary authority to permit the use of the land for purposes other than for purposes restricted under the Scheme framed under Section 29 of the Urban Improvement Act, 1958 in the present case.—Jawahar Sons Enterprises Pvt. Ltd. (Ms.) vs. State & Ors., 2002 (4) RLW (Raj) 2362 = 2002(1) DNJ (Raj.) 194 = 2002 (1) RRT 459 (Raj) = 2002 (1) CDR 766 (Raj) = 2002 (2) RLR 465 (Raj) = 2002 (2) WLC (Raj) 627 = 2002 (2) WLN 565 (Raj) = AIR 2002 (Raj) 206.
2. Resolution to resolve land for educational institutions.—Land reserved for educational institutions but UIT allotted half of plot to appellant and subsequent allotment made of rest of the plot in favour of respondent educational institution. Same was not invalid. Petition against such allotment by appellant belatedly. Not maintainable since appellant could not claim monopoly of allotment over entire plot—Besides since allotment was made and possession already given and entire amount was deposited by respondent. He could not be removed from said land.—St. Anne’s School Society vs. Urban Improvement Trust, Jodhpur Raj. & Anr. AIR 2000 Raj 422 = 2000 (3) RLW 1552 = 2000 (3) WLC 520 = 2000 (3) RLR 404 = 2000 (3) WLN 7.

3. Power of UIT.—Framing a scheme without master plan.—Under Section 29 of the UIT Act the Trust on the orders of the State Government or its on initiate or on a representative made by the Municipal Board and subject to availability of financial resources, may frame scheme for the improvement of the urban area for which the Trust is constituted. It can frame more than one scheme and there appears to be on bar to frame a scheme for a part of urban area.

For framing a scheme under Chapter V of the UIT Act existence of a master plan is not a condition precedent. A look at Section 8(1) of the UIT Act will show that the State Government has power by notification in the Official Gazette to establish for the purpose of carrying improvement whether a master plan has or has not been prepared.—Bishambhar Dayal vs. State of Rajasthan & Ors., 1991 (1) WLC 709 (Raj).
4. Allotment of land to hospital for public care.—UIT has power to prepare a scheme and to notify the various purposes for which the land let-out could be used. There is no scheme which shows the left out land to be used for park. It was described as open land. An open land cannot be treated as a park.

The allotment of the land to the Trust was eminently just and perfectly suited to the public cause. To interfere with that allotment order at the stage when construction worth lacs have already been made would result in doing injustice. The land measuring 956 sq. yards is still available for the purpose for which the appellant intends using it.

The hospital has already started functioning. In such a situation, to interfere with the allotment of the land made in favour of the Trust and directing the demolition of the building would harm the public interest instead of serving it.

To interfere in such matter under the guise of the public interest litigation would result in great injustice and that no principles of law could justify the same.—Suresh Mehta vs. State & Ors., 1992 (2) WLN 81 = 1992 (1) RLW 468 = 1992 (1) RLR 185 = 1992 (3) WLC 267 = AIR 1993 Raj 61.

Section 30. Matters to be considered when framing schemes.—When framing scheme in respect of any area, regard shall be had to.—

(a) the nature and the conditions of such area and of neighbouring areas as a whole;
(b) the several directions in which its expansion appears likely to take place";
(c) the likelihood of schemes being framed for other parts of the area; and
(d) such other matters as may be prescribed.
Section 31. Scheme to conform to master plan.—(1) If for and in respect of the urban area for which the Trust is constituted a master plan has been prepared and approved and is in operation, every scheme framed by the Trust in accordance with the provisions of this Chapter shall conform to such master plan and shall not be framed so as to affect an alteration in the different zones by the master plan.

Section 32. Previous notification of area for which scheme is framed.—(1) Whenever the Trust decides to frame a scheme for any urban area, the State Government may, at the request of the Trust, issue a notification specifying such area and declaring that the Trust has decided to frame a scheme for such area.

(2) A notification under Sub-section (1) shall remain in force for six months from the publication thereof:

Provided that the State Government may, for sufficient reasons extend the said period by a further period not exceeding six months.

(2-A) Where in the opinion of the State Government, it is necessary so to do in public interest, it may, by order published in the Official Gazette extend the period of the notification issued under Sub-section (1) for such further period as it thinks fit, notwithstanding that the period of the notification or the extended period thereof under the provisions of Sub-section (2) has expired. An order under this section may be made so as to be retrospective with effect on and from a date next following the expiration of the period of the notification of the extended period thereof under Sub-section (2).

(3) If the sanction of a scheme is notified in accordance with Section 38 in respect of such area before the expiry of the notification under this section, such notification shall continue in force until the scheme is carried out.

(4) During the period that a notification under this section remains in force in respect of any urban area, no building shall be erected, re-erected, altered or added within that area without the written sanction of Trust.

Trust empowered to take decision before sanction of scheme by Government Under Section 36.—Under Annexure 31 dated April 5, 1969, a decision was taken that the scheme shall not be executed. A reading of Section 40 of the Act will show that it relates to alteration of the scheme after sanction and it does not relate to abandonment or cancellation of the Scheme which has been sanctioned by the State Government. In Annexure R/3 it has been mentioned that the period of execution of the scheme was extended upto March 31, 1985 in exercise of the powers of the State Government under Section 39(1) of the Act. Though it cannot be said whether Annexure 31 dated April 5, 1969 was made by the Trust after the scheme had been sanctioned under Section 38(1) of the Act, but even if it may be assumed that it was made after the sanction of the Scheme under Section 38(1) of the Act, a decision was taken not to execute the scheme, but later on the period of execution of the scheme was extended under Section 39 of the Act. Therefore resolution of the Trust dated April 5, 1969 (Annexure 31) firstly will have no relevance to the present case and secondly the Trust having taken a decision not to execute the scheme and it was well within its power to extend the period of execution of the scheme and the State Government was again within its rights to issue a notification under Section 39(1) of the Act to extend the period of execution of the scheme.—Hari Ram M. Dhanwani vs. State of Raj. & Ors., 1988 (1) RLR 371.

Section 34. Transmission to Trust of representation by Municipal Board as to schemes.—The Chairman of any Municipal Board to whom a copy of a notice has been sent under Clause (b) of Sub-section (2) of Section 33 shall within a period of sixty days from the receipt of the said copy, forward to the Trust any representation which the Municipal Board may think fit to make with regard to the scheme.

(2) Every application submitted under Sub-section (1) shall be accompanied by—

(b) a statement of the reasons for any modification made in the scheme as originally framed;
(c) a statement of objections, if any, received under Section 33;

2. Acquisition of Land without prior sanction of scheme and no publication.—The acquisition of the land is not being made under the Urban Improvement Trust Act, but under the Land Acquisition Act and there is no bar in the Land Acquisition Act that the land cannot be acquired by the State Government for the development of residential colonies without prior sanction of any scheme and no publication. Then, acquisition of the land precedes the development and in the absence of any scheme, the acquisition can be made under the Act.—Sunder Lal & Ors., vs. State and Ors., 1991 (2) RLR 61 = 1992 (1) WLC 716.

Section 39. Period for execution of a scheme.—(1) While notifying the sanction of a scheme under Section 38, the State Government shall also specify in such notification the period within which the scheme so sanctioned is required to be executed by the Trust.

(2) If the Trust fails to complete the execution of the scheme within the period specified under Sub-section (1), it shall make an application to the State Government setting forth the reasons for which the scheme could not be executed within the specified period and praying for its extension.

(3) The State Government, may in consultation with the Municipal Board concerned, either refuse to extend or may extend the period and the fact of such refusal or extension shall be notified in the Official Gazette.
Trust empowered to take decision before sanction of scheme by Government Under Section 36.—Under Annexure 31 dated April 5, 1969, a decision was taken that the scheme shall not be executed. A reading of Section 40 of the Act will show that it relates to alteration of the scheme after sanction and it does not relate to abandonment or cancellation of the Scheme which has been sanctioned by the State Government. In Annexure R/3 it has been mentioned that the period of execution of the scheme was extended upto March 31, 1985 in exercise of the powers of the State Government under Section 39(1) of the Act. Though it cannot be said whether Annexure 31 dated April 5, 1969 was made by the Trust after the scheme had been sanctioned under Section 38(1) of the Act, but even if it may be assumed that it was made after the sanction of the Scheme under Section 38(1) of the Act, a decision was taken not to execute the scheme, but later on the period of execution of the scheme was extended under Section 39 of the Act. Therefore resolution of the Trust dated April 5, 1969 (Annexure 31) firstly will have no relevance to the present case and secondly the Trust having taken a decision not to execute the scheme and it was well within its power to extend the period of execution of the scheme and the State Government was again within its rights to issue a notification under Section 39(1) of the Act to extend the period of execution of the scheme.—Hari Ram M. Dhanwani vs. State of Raj. & Ors., 1988 (1) RLR 371.

Section 40. Alteration of Scheme after sanction.—At any time after a scheme has been sanctioned by the State Government and before it has been carried into execution, the Trust may alter it:
Provided that if any alteration is estimated to increase the estimated net cost of executing a scheme by more than Rs. 50,000/- or 5 percent of such cost, whichever is less, the alteration shall not be made without the previous sanction of the State Government.

Section 41. Combination of schemes.—Any number of areas in respect of which schemes have been or are proposed to be framed may, at any time, be included in one combined scheme.

Section 41-A. Provision for previously sanctioned scheme.—Notwithstanding anything contained in this Chapter, all improvement and development schemes falling within the purview of this Act, framed by a former Trust or otherwise and sanctioned by the State Government in relation to any area within the State prior to the establishment of an Improvement Trust under this Act for that area, shall be deemed to be the schemes duly sanctioned and notified under and in accordance with the provisions of this Chapter.

basis also, and in view of the fact that Trust itself in resolution approving the plan as referred to the fact that land in question was permitted to be put to commercial use way-back in 1995, when the permission was sought no change in user of the land for any restrictive purpose was to happen, which could entail levy of charges, and taking into consideration that land abutting on the road from Paota to Mahamandir was factually used for commercial purposes is not sustainable under the provisions of the Urban Improvement Act, 1958 in the present case.—Jawahar Sons Enterprises Pvt. Ltd. (Ms.) vs. State & Ors., 2002 (4) RLW (Raj) 2362 = 2002(1) DNJ (Raj.) 194 = 2002 (1) RRT 459 (Raj) = 2002 (1) CDR 766 (Raj) = 2002 (2) RLR 465 (Raj) = 2002 (2) WLC (Raj) 627 = 2002 (2) WLN 565 (Raj) = AIR 2002 (Raj) 206.

Altering the status of open space.—Petitioners filing writ petitions challenging the settlement entered into by the State Government by which it was decided that the land of Rambagh Complex, which was acquired for the purposes of UIT (now JDA) for constructing administrative, commercial and residential building, will be used as city level park, golf course (including clubhouse) and polo ground. Petitioner and interveners that the State praying should use the land either for commercial complex (as envisaged earlier) or, if not, then the entire area should be used as a city level part. Mala fide or bias not alleged. No factual foundation laid in writ petitions as regards legality or validity of impugned decision/settlement. Settlement arrived at was valid. Public interest litigation can be withdrawn in the interest of the public with leave of the court only. Petitioners, who were not parties to the earlier proceedings at any stage, have no locus standi to approach the Court in appeal even in public interest litigations. The State Government may utilize the acquired land for the purpose of Golf Course, Polo Ground and City level park in public interest. Authority has power to dispose of land by way of allotment, regularisation or auction.— *Rajasthan Polo Club vs. State of Rajasthan & Ors., State of Rajasthan & Anr. vs. S.C. (2) After considering and deciding all objection, if any, received in writing before the date so specified, the Trust may take over charge of such street, square or part from the owner thereof and the same shall thereupon vest in the Trust.
(3) When the Trust alters or closes any street or square or part thereof which has vested in it under Sub-section (2), it shall pay reasonable compensation to the previous owner for the loss of his rights therein.

(4) If the alteration or closing of any such street, square or part causes damage or substantial inconvenience to owners of property adjacent thereto or to residents in the neighbourhood, the Trust—

(i) shall forthwith provide some other reasonable means of access for the use of persons who were entitled to use street, square or part as a means of access to any property or place, and

(ii) if the provision of such means of access does not sufficiently compensate any such owner or resident for such damage or inconvenience, shall also pay him reasonable compensation in money.

Section 45. (b) whose immovable property was ventilated by such square or part, and who has suffered damage—

(ii) in case (b), from the use of which the Trust has put such square or part.

(4) In determining the compensation payable to any person under Sub-section (2) or Sub-section (3), the Trust shall make allowance for any benefit accruing to him from the construction, provision or improvement of any other public street or square at or about the same time that the public street or square or part thereof, on account of which the compensation is paid, is discontinued or closed.

1. Amendment—Applicability.—Where the proceedings were pending before the date of the introduction of the Amendment Act and the date of the commencement of the Amendment Act before the Land Acquisition Officer or before the reference Court enhanced solatium would be payable.—Umed Industries & Land Development Co. and Ors. vs. State of Rajasthan & Ors., 1995 (1) RLW 112 (SC).
2. Objection—Interest on Compensation.—The use of the word “therein” after the expression “person interested” indicates that only a person having an interest in the land is entitled to raise objections against the acquisition of land under Section 52 of the Act and a person who only claims interest in the compensation but has not interest in the land, cannot be said to be a person who is entitled to raise any objection to the acquisition proceedings.

In the absence of acquisition of title by prescription, possession, by itself, does not confer and title on the person in possession over the property in his possession.—Grace Harris vs. State of Rajasthan, 1981 RLW 620 (Raj).

3. After the award Amendment came into force—Applicability.—Payment of additional amount is independent of the compensation determined for the value of the land. They are not part of the component of the compensation for value of the acquired land. They are in addition to and independent of the component of the compensation under Section 23(1) of Central Land Acquisition Act for Section 52 of the Act. The payment of solatium, interest and additional amount under Sections 23(2), 28 and 23(1A) is in addition to the payment of the compensation in terms of the provisions of the Act under which the property came to be acquired. Admittedly, the Act does not provide for payment of solatium and additional benefits except interest @ 6% per annum from the date of taking possession. The Amendment Act 68 of 1984 would be applicable prospectively from August 1, 1987 to the land acquired thereafter Act, 68 of 1984 would be applicable under Section 60A to the pending cases as on August 1, 1960 to determine compensation.

It would be seen that under the Central Amendment Act payment of additional amount under Section 23(1-A) and of solatium under Section 23(2) cannot be applied to the award made prior to coming into force of the Rajasthan Amendment Act, 29 of 1987. Section 60A provides that notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1) of Section 52 of the Act, where any matter relating to acquisition of land is pending on the date of the commencement of the Amendment Ordinance, viz., August 1, 1987 such matters being conducted or action taken, shall be subject to the provisions of the Central LA Act.—Urban Improvement Trust Jodhpur vs. Gokul Narain & Anr., 1996 (2) RLW 122 SC.

5. Constitutional validity of Section 52 and 53.—The provisions of Sections 52 and 53 of the Act do not offend Articles 14, 19 and 31A of the Constitution as the powers are not unfettered or unguided. A look at Section 52(2) of the Act will show that before publishing a notice under Sub-section (1), the State Government shall by another notice call upon the owner of the land and any other person who in the opinion of the State Government may be interested therein to show cause, within such time as may be specified in the notice why the land should not be acquired. The said notice has to be individually served upon the owner of the land and any other person who in the opinion of the State Government may be interested therein. It shall be published in the Official Gazette at least 30 days in advance and shall be pasted on some conspicuous place in the locality, where the land to be acquired is situated. Under Section 52(3) of the Act the owner of the land or any other person interested therein may show cause and make objections, why the land should not be acquired. The objector has to be given an opportunity of being heard and has a right to be presented by a pleader and only after hearing the objections and after making such inquiry as deemed necessary, he has to submit the case for decision to the State Government and thereafter the State Government has to pass the orders as it deems fit. Therefore, sufficient safeguards are contained in Sub sections (2) and (3) of Section 52 of the Act and it cannot be said that no guide lines are provided.—Hari Ram M. Dhanwani vs. State of Raj. & Ors., 1988 (1) RLR 371.

6. Notice to be served individually.—Notices under Sub-section (2) of Section 52 required to be served individually on the owners. It is only when the owners are served individually then the owner would be in a position to show cause against the intended acquisition. If notices are not served individually, then the owners would be deprived of their valuable right to raise objections against the acquisition.—Jit Singh vs. State, 1988 WLN (UC) 258.

6. व्यक्तिगत रूप से नोटिस लाभित कराया जाना—धारा 52 की उप-धारा-(2) के अधीन नोटिस व्यक्तिगत रूप से मालिकों पर तालिक कराने की आवश्यकता होती है। यह केवल तब होता है जब मालिकों को व्यक्तिगत रूप से तालिक करायी जाती है तो मालिक आश्विन अर्जन के विरुद्ध करार दर्ज करने की स्थिति में होंगे। वर्तमान नोटिस व्यक्तिगत रूप से तालिक नहीं कराये जाते हैं तो मालिक अर्जन के विरुद्ध आपत्तियाँ करने के अपने बहुचर्चित अधिकार से विचित्र होंगे—जीतसिंह बनाम राज्य, 1988 WLN (UC) 258.

7. Notice—Territorial jurisdiction.—Notice issued under Section 52(2) by Spl. Officer, Town Planning Deptt. against respondents at Calcutta. Held, no cause of action arose within territorial jurisdiction of Calcutta High Court and it could not issue rule nisi or ex-parte interim stay order.—State of Raj. & Ors. vs. Ms. Swaica Properties & Anr., 1985 (1) WLN 560 (Raj).

7. नोटिस—क्षेत्राधिकारीय अधिकारिता—विशेष अधिकारी, कस्बा स्वामित्व विवाद द्वारा धारा 52 (2) के अधीन नोटिस कलकत्ता में प्रतिविधियों के विरुद्ध पारित किया गया। निर्णय किया, कलकत्ता उच्च न्यायालय के क्षेत्राधिकारीय अधिकारिता के सीतार कोई वाद हेतु उपलब्ध नहीं हुआ और यह कोई एक-पद्धती अतिरिक्त रूपसे अदालत पारित नहीं कर सकता—राजस्थान राज्य और अन्य वनन में, स्वेका प्रोफेसर और अन्य, 1985 (1) WLN 560 (Raj).

8. Altering the status of open space.—Petitioners filing writ petitions challenging the settlement entered into by the State Government by which it was decided that the land of Rambagh Complex, which was acquired for the purposes of UIT (now JDA) for constructing administrative, commercial and residential building, will be used as city level park, golf course (including club-house) and polo ground. Petitioner and interveners that the State praying should use the land either for commercial complex (as envisaged earlier) or, if not, then the entire area should be used as a city level part. Mala fide or bias not alleged. No factual foundation laid in writ petitions as regards legality or validity of impugned decision/settlement. Settlement arrived at was valid. Public interest litigation can be withdrawn in the interest of the public with leave of the court only. Petitioners, who were not parties to the earlier proceedings at any stage, have no locus standi to approach the Court in appeal even in public interest litigations. The State Government may utilize the acquired land for the purpose of Golf Course, Polo Ground and City level park in public interest. Authority has power to dispose of land by way of allotment, regularisation or auction.—Rajasthan Polo Club vs. State of Rajasthan & Ors., State of Rajasthan & Anr. vs. S.C. Kabra, Ms. Rambagh Gold Club, K.K. Sharma & Ved Prakash Bishnoi vs. State of Rajasthan & Ors.; Jitendra Shrimali & Anr. vs. State of Rajasthan & Ors., 2001 (3) RLR 389 (Raj).

Fresh notification issued by the Government under Section 4 of the Land Acquisition Act. Question of any revival of proceedings under Section 60A Urban Improvement Trust Act could not arise. Allottee of alternative land qua earlier acquisition proceedings has no right to enforce the allotment. —If the Society allots the plots to its members, the petitioners even after the award cannot be said to have acted fairly and bonafide. The petitioners have no locus standi and they have no case for interference by this Court.—Sheo Narain & Ors. vs. State of Rajasthan & Ors., 1993(1) WLC 536 (Raj)

—Even if the conversion charges have been deposited or some contributions have been raised, this cannot be a ground to hold that State Government can be divested of the land which vested in it under Sub-section (4) of Section 52 of U.I.T. Act.—Sheo Narain & Ors. vs. State of Rajasthan & Ors., 1993(1) WLC 536 (Raj)

—in a case where the land has absolutely vested in the State Government free from all encumbrances by virtue of Sub-section (4) of Section 52 of the U.I.T. Act after publication of the notification under Sub-section (1) of Section 52 of the U.I.T., if the amount of compensation has not been determined within two years of the extension of the Act to this State, the State Government will be divested of the land and possession has to be re-delivered to the owners of the land.—Sheo Narain & Ors. vs. State of Rajasthan & Ors., 1993(1) WLC 536 (Raj)

—Notification under Section 52(2) of the Urban Improvement Act was issued on 30.04.1987 and was published in the Rajasthan Gazette dated 09.07.1987. With the coming into force of the Rajasthan Urban Improvement Amendment Act, 1987 the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894 became applicable to those proceedings. Report was submitted by the competent officer to the Government on 11.07.1988 and a Notification was published on 30.07.1988. It is, thus, clear that the Notification under Section 6 was published after the expiry of the period of one year counted from the date of publication of the notice.—Damodar Lal Sharma & Ors. vs. State of Rajasthan & Ors., 1994 (1) WLC 294 (Raj)

—There is delay of about two years in challenging the award and in view of the notification under Sub-section (2) of Section 52 of U.I.T. Act, it cannot be said that the petitioner had no knowledge of the acquisition proceedings. He shall be deemed to have the knowledge of acquisition proceedings.—Sheo Narain & Ors. vs. State of Rajasthan & Ors., 1993(1) WLC 536 (Raj)

—When transfer could not taken place, even agreements to sell could not be executed as in all such cases they had to be followed by the execution of sale-deeds. Therefore, also such transfer of lands in relation to which acquisition proceedings had been initiated by issuing notification under Section 52(2) of the U.I.T. Act was not permissible as it was against the provisions of 1976 Act and agreement to sell will not confer any right on the purchasers.—Sheo Narain & Ors. vs. State of Rajasthan & Ors., 1993(1) WLC 536 (Raj)

—If the land had vested in the State Government free from all encumbrances after the publication of the notification under Sub-section (1) of Section 52 of the U.I.T. —Even if the conversion charges have been deposited or some constructions have been raised, this cannot be a ground to hold that the State Government can be divested of the land which vested in it under Sub-section (4) of Section 52 of the U.I.T. Act.—Sheo Narain & Ors. vs. State of Rajasthan & Ors., 1993(1) WLC 536 (Raj)

—In a case where the land has absolutely vested in the State Government free from all encumbrances by virtue of Sub-section (4) of Section 52 of the U.I.T. Act, after publication of the notification under Sub-section (1) of Section 52 of the U.I.T., if the amount of compensation has not been determined within two years of the extension of the Act to this State, the State Government will be divested of the land and possession has to be re-delivered to the owners of the land.—Sheo Narain vs. State of Rajasthan, 1993(1) WLC 536 (Raj).

—Such persons, who not come to this Court with clean hands, do not deserve any interference in the equitable jurisdiction of this Court, the exercise of which jurisdiction should be confined to honest, bona fide and law abiding citizens.—Sheo Narain & Ors. vs. State of Rajasthan & Ors., 1993 (1) WLC 536 (Raj).

—यदि भूमि गूँआई.टी. अधिनियम की धारा 52 की उप-धारा (1) के अधीन अवधिसूचना के प्रकाशन के पश्चात सभी अर्थात्मक से मुक्त होकर राज्य सरकार में निषिद्ध थी, तो उस धारा के प्रभाव में भूमि का कोई वंचन नहीं किया जा सकता.—शिव नारायण और अन्य बनाम राजस्थान राज्य और अन्य, 1993 (1) WLC 536 (Raj).

1. Applicability of Section 29. (धारा 29 का लागू होना) ........................................... 94
2. Change of user of Land. (भूमि के प्रयोगकर्ता का परिवर्तन) ........................................... 95

1. Applicability of Section 29.—Construction for purpose other than covered by Section 29. No scheme framed under Section 29, nor any pre-existing scheme in operation—Sections have no application since distinguishing features contemplated in Section 73-B not attracted.

In respect of authority to levy conversion charges in the cases of free old lands, use of which is not restricted by the title, under which such land is held, no conversion charges are leviable and in view of the fact that though under non-obstinate provision of Section 73B the State Government has necessary authority to permit the use of the land for purposes other than for purposes restricted under the Scheme framed under Section 29 inspite of the provision of Section 72, but there being no scheme framed under Section 29 or deemed to be framed under Section 41A under which the user of the land in question for commercial purposes was restricted, no demand for change in user could be made on that basis also, and in view of the fact that Trust itself in resolution approving the plan as referred to the fact that land in question was permitted to be put to commercial use way-back in 1995, when the permission was sought no change in user of the land for any restrictive purpose was to happen, which could entail levy of charges, and taking into consideration that land abutting on the road from Paota to Mahamandir was factually used for commercial purposes is not sustainable under the provisions of the Urban Improvement Act, 1958 in the present case.—Jawahar Sons Enterprises Pvt. Ltd. (Ms.) vs. State & Ors., 2002 (4) RLW (Raj) 2362 = 2002 (1) DNJ (Raj.) 194 = 2002 (1) RRT 459 (Raj) = 2002 (1) CDR 766 (Raj) = 2002 (2) RLR 465 (Raj) = 2002 (2) WLC (Raj) 627 = 2002 (2) WLN 565 (Raj) = AIR 2002 (Raj) 206.

Prohibition in Sub-sections (1) and (2) of Section 72 stands overridden by Section 73-B. Land originally granted without restriction as to its use. Mere change of current use to commercial use cannot entail conversion charge.

Section 72(2) only permits any alteration in continued use permitted under Section 72(2) whereas change in purpose of use of land can be permitted under Section 73-B—Ms. Jawahar Sons Enterprises Pvt. Ltd. vs. State & Ors., 2002 (2) WLC (Raj) 627 = 2002 (2) RLR 465 (Raj) = 2002 (4) RLW 2362 (Raj) = 2002 (2) WLN 565 (Raj) = AIR 2002 (Raj) 206.

1. धारा 29 का लागू होना—धारा 29 द्वारा आदेश के अलावा प्रयोजन के लिए निर्माण। धारा 29 के अन्दर कोई योजना का निर्माण नहीं, न ही कोई पूर्व—विवरण योजना प्रवृत्त—धाराएं लागू नहीं होती है, चूंकि धारा 73-क में निर्दिष्ट विशेषताएं आकारित नहीं होती है।

मुक्त पुनर्प्रयोग भूमियों के मामलों में संपर्कित प्रमाण अंदिशा घटाने करने के प्रारंभिक के संबंध में, जिसका प्रयोग अदा से सीमित नहीं है, जिसके अधीन ऐसी भूमि शारीर की जाती है, कोई संपर्कित प्रारंभिक उपवर्तक नहीं है और इस तथ्य के अनुसार कि यद्यपि धारा 73-क से स्वाभिमान प्राधिकृत के अधीन, राज्य सरकार के पास धारा 29 के प्रावधानों के बावजूद धारा 29 के अधीन बनायी गयी योजना के अधीन सीमित प्रयोजनों के लिए अलावा प्रयोजनों के लिए भूमि का प्रयोग स्वीकृत करने का प्रारंभिक है, लेकिन धारा 29 के अधीन कोई योजना नहीं बनाई गयी है, या धारा 41-क के अधीन बनायी गयी नामी मानी गयी है, जिसके अधीन वाणिज्यिक प्रयोजनों के लिए प्रमाणत भूमि का प्रयोगकारी सीमित या, प्रयोजनकारी ने परीक्षण के लिए कोई मांग उस आधार पर भी नहीं की जा सकी, और इस तथ्य के अनुसार, कि स्वयं न्याय ने प्रस्ताव में योजना को इस तथ्य के निर्देश किये अनुसार अनुमोदित किया कि प्रश्नात भूमि 1995 में वाणिज्यिक प्रयोग के लिए स्वीकृत की गयी, जब अनुमान था कि वह नामी है, किसी सीमित प्रयोजन के लिए भूमि के प्रयोजक क्षेत्र में कोई परीक्षण नहीं होना था, जिससे प्रायोजक उद्देश्य दिया जा सके और वह विचारित करते हुए, कि पावर्टी से महामार्च तक सड़क पर चतुर भूमि वाणिज्यिक प्रयोजनों के लिए प्रयुक्त की जा रही थी, हर्षम हालात में नाम शुद्ध अंदिशा अन्तिम 1985 के प्रावधानों के अधीन पुनर्व्यक्ति नहीं है—जयशंकर संस्कृत प्राइव्येज प्राप्ति (प्रास) बनाम राज्य और अन्य, 2002 (4) RLW 2362 (Raj) = 2002 (1) DNJ (Raj.) 194 = 2002 (1) RRT 459 (Raj) = 2002 (1) CDR 766 (Raj) = 2002 (2) RLR 465 (Raj) = 2002 (4) RLW 2362 (Raj) = 2002 (2) WLN 565 (Raj) = AIR 2002 Raj 206.

धारा 72 की उप-धाराओं (1) और (2) में वर्तमान धारा 73-क द्वारा अंदिशा बनाना होता है भूमि प्रारंभ में इसके प्रयोगकारी को प्रतिबंध के लिए सीमित की गयी। वाणिज्यिक प्रयोग में वर्तमान प्रयोग के केवल परीक्षण से संपर्कित प्रमाण अंदिशा नहीं कर सकता।

धारा 72(2) के अनुसार पुनर्व्यक्ति क्रमबद्ध प्रयोग में धारा 72(2) केवल किसी परीक्षण को स्वीकृत करती है, जबकि भूमि के प्रयोग के प्रयोजन में परीक्षण धारा 73-क के अधीन स्वीकृत करता है—जयशंकर संस्कृत प्राइव्येज प्राप्ति (प्रास) बनाम राज्य और अन्य, 2002 (2) WLC 627 (Raj) = 2002 (2) RLR 465 (Raj) = 2002 (4) RLW 2362 (Raj) = 2002 (2) WLN 565 (Raj) = AIR 2002 Raj 206.

2. Change of user of Land.—Land in question being used for commercial purpose since before commencement of any Master Plan. No permission required for its continued use for commercial purpose nor such continued use can be subjected to any conversion charge.

Land originally granted without restriction as to its user. Mere change of current use to commercial use cannot entail conversion charge. Demand for conversion charge quashed.—Ms. Jawahar Sons Enterprises Ltd. vs. State, 2002 (2)
A perusal of the Master Plan 1971-91 will show that Sansar Chandra Road has been shown as commercial and even if assuming for the sake of arguments, though not accepting, that the land use from cinema to commercial will change the land use, because in the Master Plan it has been the land use shown was commercial, it cannot be said that there was any deviation of the land use in contravention of the Master Plan. In such a situation, the provisions of Section 25 of Jaipur Development Authority Act, 1982 can hardly be attracted. —Jaipur Cinema Karmchari Union & Ors. vs. Jaipur Development Authority, 1993 (1) WLC 332 (Raj) = 1993 (1) WLN 461 (Raj).

2. भूमि के प्रयोगकर्ता का परिवर्तन.—प्रस्तावित भूमि वाणिज्यिक प्रयोगकर्ता के लिए प्रयुक्त, चूंकि किसी मार्गदर्शक प्लान के आर्थिक से पहले, वाणिज्यिक प्रयोगकर्ता के लिए इसके लगातार प्रयोग के लिए किसी अनुमति की आवश्यकता नहीं है, न ही ऐसा प्रयोगकर्ता की संपर्कित प्रबंध का विषय हो सकता है।

भूमि प्रारंभ में इसके प्रयोगकर्ता को प्रतिबंध के बिना स्वीकृत की गयी। वाणिज्यिक प्रयोग में वर्तमान प्रयोग के केवल परिवर्तन से संपर्कित प्रबंध अपरिहार्य नहीं कर सकता। संपर्कित प्रबंध के लिए मांग निर्देश की गयी—में जयपुर समिति एन्ट्रे प्राइजेंज लिं. बनाम राजस्थान, 2002 (2) WLC 627 (Raj) = 2002 (2) RLR 465 (Raj) = 2002 (2) RLW 2362 (Raj) = AIR 2002 Raj 206.

—मार्गदर्शक प्लान 1971-91 का अवलोकन यह दर्शाता कि संसार चंद्रोद्योग वाणिज्यिक रूप में दर्शायी गयी है और चाहे यदि तक के लिए यह मान भी लिया जाये, यदापि स्वीकृत नहीं हैं कि लिंगायत से वाणिज्यिक के लिए प्रयुक्त भूमि, भूमि का प्रयोग परिवर्तित करेंगे, कारण मार्गदर्शक प्लान में इसे प्रयुक्त भूमि को वाणिज्यिक दर्शाया गया था, यह नहीं कहा जा सकता कि मार्गदर्शक प्लान के उत्तराधिकारियों में भूमि प्रयोग को कोई विचलन था। ऐसी स्थिति में जयपुर विकास प्राधिकरण अधिनियम, 1982 की धारा 25 के प्रकाश मुख्य से आकर्षित हो सकते हैं—जयपुर लिंगायत कर्मचारी संघ और अन्य बनाम जयपुर विकास प्राधिकरण और अन्य, 1993 (1) WLC 332 (Raj) = 1993 (1) WLN 461 (Raj).

of the functions as may be permissible under the regulation framed under Section 75 of the Act to the Chairman of the Trust and there is no provision in the Act empowering the Trust to delegate its power in regard to the order of removal of construction in favour of an officer of the Trust. It is true that under Section 27 of the Act the Chairman may be general or special order in writing delegate to any officer of the Trust any of his power, duties or functions under this Act or under the Rules made thereunder except the power to preside over the resting of the trust. Such delegation by the Chairman is in regard to him own functions only. There is, however, no provision of such delegation in favour of officer so far as the trust is concerned. It, therefore, follows that the functions of the Trust can be delegated either in favour of the committee or in favour of the Chairman.

In the case of Chairman delegation will be to the extent the regulation framed under Section 75 of the Act permits. It may be observed here that the delegation of power is permissible with the legislative permission and in absence of such legislative permission there can be no delegation of the functions of the trust in favour of the officer to the Trust or its Secretary. Any delegation may by the Trust under its resolution in regard to the removal of unauthorised construction cannot be said to be in consonance of the provision of the Act. Court is, therefore, firmly of the opinion that the resolution of the UIT as far it delegates power of removal under Section 91 in favour of its Secy, is beyond the competence of the UIT. As a naturally corollary thereof the Secretary of the Trust derives no power of ordering removal of unauthorised construction and is therefore wholly incompetent to pass the impugned order under Section 91 of the Act. It may be that the Trust may empower any office-officer for the purpose of Section 91(C) and authorise any officer to stop the unauthorised building operations but from that it cannot be inferred that the Trust can by its resolution authorise its officer under Section 91(C) of the Act to order removal of unauthorised construction—

Section 76. Printing and sale of copies of rules and regulations.—(1) The Chairman shall cause all rules made under Section 74 and all regulations made under Section 75 and for the time being in force, to be printed and shall cause printed copies thereof to be delivered to any applicant on payment of such fees as may be prescribed by regulations.

(2) Notice of the fact of copies of rules and regulations being obtainable at the said price and of the place where and the persons from whom the same are obtainable shall be given by the Chairman by advertisement in local newspaper.

Section 77. Power of Government to cancel regulations made under Section 75.—The State Government may, after previous publication of its intention, rescind any regulations made by the Trust which it has sanctioned, and thereupon the regulations shall cease to have effect.

Section 79. (i) is given or tendered to him; or
(ii) if such person cannot be found, is affixed on some conspicuous part of his last known place of residence or business, if within the State or is given or tendered to some adult member of his family or is affixed on some conspicuous part of the land or building to which it relates, or
(iii) is sent by registered post to that person.

(2) Any document which is required or authorised to be served on the owner or occupier of any land or building may be addressed to "the owner" or "the occupier", as the case may be, of that land or building naming that land or building, without further name of description, and shall be deemed to be duly served.—
(a) if the document so addressed is sent or delivered in accordance with Clause (d) of Sub-section (1); or

(5) Where the person on whom a document is to be served is a minor, the service upon his guardian or any adult member of his family shall be deemed to be service upon the minor.

expenses of such demolition shall be recoverable from the owner as arrears of land revenue:

Provided that no such order shall be made unless the owner has been given a reasonable opportunity to show cause why the order should not be made.

(2) Any person aggrieved by an order under Sub-section (1) may appeal to the Divisional Commissioner against the order within 30 days from the date of the order of the Trust and the Divisional Commissioner may after hearing the parties to the appeal either dismiss the appeal or may reverse or vary the whole or any part of the order.

(3) The decision of the Divisional Commissioner in the appeal shall be final and shall not be questioned in any Court.

Order of removal — Trust cannot delegat its power.—From the reading of Section 91-A it will be evident that the power to order removal vests in the Trust. The Trust may delegate any of its functions or the duties to any of the committees constituted under Section 21 of the Act. It may further delegate such of the functions as may be permissible under the regulation framed under Section 75 of the Act to the Chairman of the Trust and there is no provision in the Act empowering the Trust to delegate its power in regard to the order of removal of construction in favour of an officer of the Trust. It is true that under Section 27 of the Act the Chairman may be general or special order in writing delegate to any officer of the Trust any of his power, duties or functions under this Act or under the Rules made thereunder except the power to preside over the resting of the trust. Such delegation by the Chairman is in regard to him own functions only. There is, however, no provision of such delegation in favour of officer so far as the trust is concerned. It may be observed here that the delegation of power is permissible with the legislative permission and in absence of such legislative permission there can be no delegation of the functions of the trust in favour of the officer to the Trust or its Secretary. As a naturally corollary thereof the Secretary of the Trust derives no power of ordering removal of unauthorised construction and is therefore wholly incompetent to pass the impugned order under Section 91 of the Act. It may be that the Trust may empower any office-officer for the purpose of Section 91(C) and authorise any officer to stop the unauthorised building operations but from that it cannot be inferred that the Trust can by its resolution authorise its officer under Section 91(C) of the Act to order removal of unauthorised construction—

1. Removal of Tresspasser in exercise of power under Section 92-A. (Commentary on Nature and Scope of Power under Section 92-A)

2. Unauthorised occupation—Eviction.

1. Removal of Tresspasser in exercise of power under Section 92-A.—Competent Authority of U.I.T. can cause removal of unauthorised occupant from public land, public street or public amenities of public use, after adopting a just, fair and reasonable procedure. Unauthorised occupant cannot insist to be dispossessed by taking recourse to some other law in force for the time being. Adjudication of such dispute is the procedural right, procedural right is not a vested right.—Mohammed Yunus vs. UIT, Jodhpur & Ors., 1999 (3) RLW 1714 (Raj).

2. Unauthorised occupation—Eviction.—Lease of land granted by UIT to respondent. Respondent inducted the petitioner as sub-tenant. Lease of respondent terminated by UIT for violating conditions of lease. Notice by UIT to petitioner under Section 92A of 1959 Act to vacate premises. Right of petitioner, if any, stood extinguished with termination of lease in favour of respondent. Act of 1959 being a special law, petitioner can-not claim that he can be evicted only by recourse to the provisions of Rajasthan Public Premises (Eviction of Unauthorised Occupants) Act, 1964. Except that petitioner claims no right to protect his possession. Further, a civil suit in this matter was pending before Civil Court in which an injunction had been obtained and the petitioner withdrew his application under Order 39 Rule 2-A CPC. Writ petition was also belated.—Mohd. Yunus vs. Urban Improvement Trust, Jodhpur & Ors., 1999 (3) RLW (Raj) 1633 = 1999 (1) WLN (Raj) 523 = 1999 (3) WLG (Raj) 461.
3. Removal of unauthorised occupant.—What the learned Single Judge meant by observing that the appellant-petitioner had abused the process of the Court, is that even if the order dated 04.03.1998, gave a fresh cause of action to the appellant-petitioner, he could have perused the remedy under Order 39 Rule 2-A, CPC on ground that the said order had been passed in violation of the interim injunction passed by the Court on 06.10.1997. The powers of the Civil Court under Order 39 Rule 2-A, CPC, are much wider than Court to punish a contemnor under the provisions of the Contempt of Courts Act, 1971. Under the Code of Civil Procedure, in such a situation, the Civil Court has been empowered to “order the property of a person, guilty of such disobedience or or breach, to be attached”, and also to “order such person to be detained in a civil prison” and in case of continuous breach or disobedience, to sell the property so attached and compensate the injured-party from sale-proceeds. Thus, in such circumstances, appellant-petitioner ought to have pressed his application filed under Order 39 Rule 2-A, CPC.

On reaching the inescapable conclusion that Competent Authority of the UIT, in exercise of its powers, under Section 92-A of the Act of 1959, can cause removal of trespasser/unauthorised occupant from public land, public street or public amenities of public use, after adopting a just, fair and reasonable procedure. Trespasser/unauthorised occupant cannot insist to be disposed by taking recourse to some other law in force for the time being, for the reason that adjudication of such a dispute is the procedural right to which no one has a vested right. While entertaining the writ petition, the Court should exercise the discretionary/equity jurisdiction only in furtherance of the cause of justice after weighing the public interest vis-a-vis private interest.—Mohd. Yunus vs. Urban Improvement Trust, Jodhpur & Ors., 1999 (3) WLC 645 (Raj) = 1999 (3) RLW (Raj) 1714 = 1999 (1) WLN (Raj) 552 = 2000 (1) RLR (Raj) 245 = AIR 1999 (Raj) 334.
