STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

Raja Sir Annamalai Chettiar was maintaining colleges near Chidambaram in which higher instruction was imparted in English, Tamil and Sanskrit studies. In the year 1928 he agreed with then Local Government to hand over those institutions with all the properties attached thereto and further to give a sum of RS.20 lakhs for the purposes of establishing and maintaining at Annamalai Nagar a teaching and residential University wherein he and his heirs shall be entitled to certain powers and privileges.

2. Accordingly, the Annamalai University was established under the Annamalai University Act, 1928 (Tamil Nadu Act I of 1929) as unitary type for encouragement of higher education and research in Tamil Nadu in which Raja Sir Annamalai Chettiar was recognized as its Founder. Since then Raja Sir Annamalai Chettiar and his heirs, as Founder of the University, were exercising the powers and privileges conferred under the Act. Under the said Act, the Founder besides being the Pro-Chancellor of the University, is also an officer of the University. Though the position of the Founder appears to be a honorary one, the past experience indicates that the powers and privileges conferred on the Founder has been grossly abused.

3. Under the said Act, the Founder shall recommend a panel of three names to the Chancellor for him to choose one among them as Vice-Chancellor. The Vice-Chancellor so appointed being the Principal Executive Officer have power to appoint clerical and other servants and also being a Board Member along with the Founder for the selection of Teachers and Registrar of the University is always under an obligation to execute the desires of the Founder.

4. The post of the Founder being a hereditary one and for life, the University established by law is being administered by a Vtce-Cnancellor recommended by the Founder, a private individual, who derives right through inheritance. Such privilege is incompatible with an egalitarian social order and also work against the spirit of good governance.

5. During the month of November 2012 fearing retrenchment and reduction in emoluments, the Joint Action Council of Annamalai University teaching and non-teaching staff association engaged in hunger strikes, abstaining from work, gate meetings and protest which resulted in campus unrest and postponement of examinations. In spite of releasing Block Grant by the Government every year running to several crores, the University has landed in unprecedented financial crisis primarily due to appointment of excess staff, transfer of University funds, investments of funds for other purposes and non-adherence of statutory obligations.

6. To safeguard the welfare of the students and to allay the apprehensions of the staff, the Government constituted a Special Local Fund Auditing Team to assess the financial and other irregularities in the Annamalai University and to submit a detailed report to the Government. The Government also constituted a High Level Committee to analyze the audit report of the Special Local Fund Auditing Team and to suggest suitable recommendations on the affairs of the University.

7. The provisions of the Annamalai University Act, 1928 are not similar to the provisions of other University Acts in the State. The peculiar feature of the University Act which vest vast powers and privileges on the Founder, had led to maladministration of the University. The composition of authorities of the University also requires changes in order to provide adequate representation for the present day stake holders. As it is the social Obligation of the Government to protect the livelihood of the teaching and non-teaching staff of the University and to ensure the imparting of higher education to the rural students in and around Annamalai Nagar, the Government have decided to bring the existing Annamalai University Act on par with other enactments governing the Universities in the State and to repeal the said Tamil Nadu Act I of 1929.

8. The Bill seeks to give effect to the above decision.
