If Santhara is suicide, organ donation is murder: Rajasthan home minister

MAMTHA PRAJAPATI SINGH

RAJASTHAN Home Minister Shri Ravi Pratap Singh said that if Santhara— the organ donor who died in Jodhpur on Thursday— was a suicide, then organ donation would be condemned. “The dead is not responsible for his act, but the family and those associated with him are responsible for their conduct. They have no right to decide on live human organs which were meant to be donated. They are responsible for the mistake,” he said.

The activity, Mr Pratap argued, would generate a lot of buzz and attention on the issue which was more “expected than the actual event.”

He also cited the example of the80-year-old Shri Ramdas Zawar who donated his organ to the Rajasthan Lions Club. Zawar had suffered from cancer, which had spread to his brain. “We will have to take legal action against those who have concocted a plan to attract attention on organ donation,” Mr Pratap said.

MONK ON FAST DIES

Sri Lanka's monk Gnanasara Thera, who was arrested on charges of religious practice

Disgraced monk Gnanasara Thera has died. The 73-year-old monk, who has been on a series of deaths—last year, his own brother—was urged to go on a hunger strike by a seinor politician in Sri Lanka, a political leader urged the monk to go on a hunger strike after the monk died.

Mr Pratap said that the monk was released on bail, but he was arrested on charges of religious practice a day after his release. “Mr Pratap said the monk was given bail and released on bail. The monk was released after he was arrested on charges of religious practice in 2021.
